What can I get?

Postgraduate Master's Loan

What's it for?

The Postgraduate Master's Loan helps towards your course and living costs while you're studying a postgraduate Master's course.

How much can I get?

Students applying for courses starting on or after 1 August 2018

You can get up to £13,000 for your whole course. The maximum amount you can get each year depends on the length of your course.

If your course is two years, you can get up to £6,500 in your first year and up to £6,500 in your second year.

If your course is three years, you can get up to £4,333 in your first and second year and up to £4,334 in your third year.

If your course is four years, you can get up to £3,250 in each academic year.

Students applying for courses starting between 1 August 2017 and 31 July 2018

Students can get up to £10,280 for their postgraduate course.

Do I have to pay it back?

Yes, but not until your income is over the repayment threshold. You can find out more about repaying your Postgraduate Master's Loan on page 13.

Extra help - Disabled Students' Allowances (DSAs)

What's it for?

DSAs help with extra essential costs you might have as a direct result of your disability, including a long-term health condition, mental-health condition or specific learning difficulty, such as dyslexia or dyspraxia.

How much you'll get depends on your individual needs, not your household income. You can get up to £10,590 each year to help you pay for the extra costs you might have, such as support workers, specialist equipment, travel and other study-related costs.

Do I have to pay it back?

No, unless you leave your course early.

Anything else?

You can apply for DSAs even if you're not eligible for or don't want to apply for a Postgraduate Master's Loan.

For more information about DSAs, read 'Extra help – Disabled Students' Allowances', which is available to download at www.studentfinancewales.co.uk

Do I qualify?

Personal circumstances

To get a Postgraduate Master's Loan you must meet certain criteria on nationality and residency, age and previous study.

Nationality and residency

To apply for a Postgraduate Master's Loan you must:

- ◀ be a UK national, or have settled status (this means you have no restrictions on how long you can stay in the UK),
- ◀ normally live in Wales, and not have moved there to study, and
- ◀ have been living in the UK for at least three years before the start of your course.

You might also be able to get a Postgraduate Master's Loan if you're:

- ◀ a refugee, or a relative of one,
- ◀ under humanitarian protection as a result of a failed application for asylum and living in Wales,
- ◀ granted Discretionary Leave to remain in the UK, or a relative of someone granted Discretionary Leave to remain in the UK, where no application for asylum has been made,
- ◀ granted leave to enter or remain in the UK, or a relative of someone granted leave to enter or remain as a result of a failed application for asylum,

- ◀ granted leave to remain in the UK or a relative of someone granted leave to remain in the UK on the grounds of private life,
- ◀ a European Economic Area (EEA) or Swiss migrant worker, or a relative of one,
- ◀ the child of a Swiss national,
- ◀ the child of a Turkish worker, or
- ◀ a member of the UK Armed Forces, or a relative of someone in the Armed Forces, and you're studying an eligible distance learning Master's course outside the UK.
- ◀ a stateless person, or the family member of one.

To be eligible as a stateless person you must have been living in the UK for at least three years before the first day of the first academic year of your course.

If you are an EU national who has been living in the EEA or Switzerland for at least three years before the start of your course, you will also be able to apply for a Postgraduate Master's Loan.

If you're from another part of the UK and have moved to Wales to study, you won't be able to get a Postgraduate Master's Loan from Student Finance Wales. You should contact your own funding provider for further information on what postgraduate support is available.

Your age

You must be under 60 on the first day of the first academic year of your course to get a Postgraduate Master's Loan.

The first day of the academic year depends on when your course starts.

If your course starts between:	First day of the academic year:
1 August and 31 December	1 September
1 January and 31 March	1 January
1 April and 30 June	1 April
1 July and 31 July	1 July

Previous study

You can only get a Postgraduate Master's Loan if you don't already hold a Master's degree, or other higher-level qualification, such as a PhD.

If you take a Postgraduate Master's Loan for a course but don't complete it, you won't be able to get a second Postgraduate Master's Loan. You might be able to get another Postgraduate Master's Loan if you did not complete your course because of compelling personal reasons, such as illness. You would need to send us evidence to support this.

To find out more about how leaving your course early might affect you, read 'Taking a break from your studies or withdrawing from your course', which is available to download from www.studentfinancewales.co.uk

MAAs from a Scottish university, University of Oxford, University of Cambridge or Trinity College Dublin are at a lower level than a postgraduate Master's qualification. If you have an MA from one of these universities you will still be able to get a Postgraduate Master's Loan.

Your course

Your course must be in the UK, taught or research based, and lead to a Master's qualification, such as:

- ◀ Master of Science (MSc)
- ◀ Master of Art (MA)
- ◀ Master of Philosophy (MPhil)
- ◀ Master of Research (MRes)
- ◀ Master of Law (LLM)
- ◀ Master of Letters (MLitt)
- ◀ Master of Fine Art (MFA)
- ◀ Master of Education (MEd)
- ◀ Master of Business Administration (MBA)

You can't get a Postgraduate Master's Loan if you're 'topping-up' a lower-level qualification to a Master's degree. The course must be a full standalone Master's course.

You can study your course at a university or by distance learning. If you're studying by distance learning you must be living in Wales on the first day of the first academic year of your course (see page 6 for academic year start dates). This usually doesn't apply if you're a member of the armed forces or the relative of a member of the armed forces.

Your course must last at least one academic year and must be either:

- ◀ a full-time course lasting one or two academic years,
- ◀ or a part-time course lasting two, three or four years.

You can't get a Postgraduate Master's Loan for some postgraduate level courses, such as a Postgraduate Certificate (PgCert) or Postgraduate Diploma (PgDip), or where the postgraduate course is funded by undergraduate student finance, such as:

- ◀ Initial Teacher Education (ITE)
- ◀ Integrated Master's (for example, MPharm)

If you're studying a Master of Architecture (MArch) course you would usually be able to get undergraduate support. You might be able to get a Postgraduate Master's Loan if this isn't available to you, for example, if you're studying part time.

If you're in any doubt, you should check if your course qualifies for a Postgraduate Master's Loan with your university.

Your university

Your university must be in the UK and either:

- ◀ publicly funded (paid for by the government), or
- ◀ privately funded and running courses eligible for student finance.

If you're in any doubt, check with your university.

If you are an EU national and you do not usually live in Wales, you must be studying at a university in Wales to get a Postgraduate Master's Loan.

Other sources of funding

You won't be able to get a Postgraduate Master's Loan if you are getting a healthcare bursary or a social work bursary, from:

- ◀ National Health Service (NHS),
- ◀ Department of Health (DoH),
- ◀ Student Awards Agency Scotland (SAAS), or
- ◀ Social Care Wales.

If you apply for a social work bursary and are rejected you can then apply for a Postgraduate Master's Loan.

How and when do I apply?

Applying online

The quickest and easiest way to apply for a Postgraduate Master's Loan is online at www.studentfinancewales.co.uk

If you've already had student finance for an undergraduate course you won't need to register again. You can use the Customer Reference Number, password and secret answer you already have.

If you're registering for the first time you'll create a password and secret answer. You need to keep these safe as you'll need them to log into your account.

You should apply as early as possible to make sure your Postgraduate Master's Loan is ready for the start of your course.

You don't need a confirmed place at university. You can apply using your preferred choice of course and update the details later, if you need to.

To complete your application you'll need:

- ◀ a valid UK passport (if you have one),
- ◀ your university and course details,
- ◀ your bank account details, and
- ◀ your National Insurance number.

Once you start your application you can save it at any time and go back to it later.

You'll be asked how much Postgraduate Master's Loan you want, up to the maximum of £13,000. If your course is longer than a year, you'll be asked how much you want in your first year, up to the maximum available (see page 4).

To get a Postgraduate Master's Loan you must apply no more than nine months after the first day of the final academic year of your course. You can find out academic year start dates in the table on page 6.

Evidence

When you apply, you'll be asked for some evidence or information to support your application. In most cases, you can easily provide everything we need by filling in the details on your application.

By giving us your valid UK passport details when you apply we can automatically check your identity so you won't have to send us your passport.

If you don't have a valid UK passport, you will have to send us your UK birth or adoption certificate or non-UK passport.

Any identity evidence we ask for must be originals, not photocopies. We'll send them back as soon as possible. Remember to include your Customer Reference Number with everything you send to us.

In some circumstances you may be asked to send us additional information or evidence, for example, evidence of your previous addresses or documents from the Home Office.

Your application isn't complete until we have everything we need. If you want your money in time for the start of your course, you should send us any evidence we ask for as soon as possible.

Applying for Disabled Students' Allowances

If you're applying for Disabled Students' Allowances (DSAs) you will need to complete a DSA1 full form and provide evidence to confirm you have a disability that affects your studies.

You can download a DSA1 full form from your online account at the end of your main application.

It can take up to 14 weeks to process a DSAs application, so make sure you send your application as early as possible.

To find out more about applying for DSAs, read 'Extra help – Disabled Students' Allowances', which is available to download from www.studentfinancewales.co.uk

What happens next?

Once we've assessed your application we'll send you a letter confirming how much Postgraduate Master's Loan you can get. It will also show what dates you can expect to get paid. You should keep this letter safe as your university might ask to see it when you register.

What if anything changes?

If any of your details change after you've applied for your Postgraduate Master's Loan, don't worry – you can update your application.

To update your personal details, log into your account at www.studentfinancewales.co.uk

To update any other details, such as your university or course, you need to send us a completed 'Postgraduate Change of circumstances' form. You can download this from www.studentfinancewales.co.uk

You can also change the amount of Postgraduate Master's Loan you've applied for, up to the maximum of £13,000. The latest you can do this is nine months after the first day of the final academic year of your course. To do this, you need to send us a completed 'Postgraduate Master's Loan request' form. You can download this from www.studentfinancewales.co.uk

If you leave or suspend your studies after you've started your course you must let us and your university know. To find out more about how this might affect you, read 'Taking a break from your studies or withdrawing from your course', which is available to download at www.studentfinancewales.co.uk

How do I get paid?

Starting your course

You have to register at your university before we can make the first payment to you. Once your university has told us that you're registered, we'll make your first payment.

Getting paid

We'll pay your Postgraduate Master's Loan into your bank account. It can take 4-5 working days for the money to reach your account.

You'll get your Postgraduate Master's Loan in three instalments throughout the academic year.

Warning – beware of fraudulent emails from anyone claiming to be from Student Finance Wales. We'll never ask you to update your bank details or confirm your account details by email.

If you get an email asking you to give details or follow a link to the Student Finance Wales website, send it to phishing@slc.co.uk. Don't reply to the email or click on any links.

Do I need to reapply each year?

You only have to apply for your Postgraduate Master's Loan once. You won't have to reapply if your course is longer than one year.

What about repayments?

When will I start making repayments?

You won't have to make any repayments to your Postgraduate Loan before April 2019.

From then, you'll be due to start making repayments the April after you finish or leave your course. But you'll only start making repayments if your income is over the repayment threshold, which is currently £21,000 a year, £1,750 a month or £404 a week, before tax and National Insurance.

How are repayments taken?

If you're employed, your employer will take repayments directly from your salary along with tax and National Insurance.

If you stop working or your income falls below £21,000 a year, your repayments will automatically stop until you're earning over the threshold again.

Your employer tells HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) how much student loan you've repaid.

After the end of the tax year, HMRC tells us how much you've paid and we apply the repayments to your balance and work out the interest to be added.

If you're self assessed, you'll repay to HMRC directly through self assessment at the same time you pay your tax.

After the end of the tax year, HMRC tells us how much you've paid that year and we apply the repayments to your balance and work out the interest to be added.

If you're planning to live, work or travel overseas for more than three months after your course, you'll need to complete an Overseas Income Assessment Form so we can calculate if you need to repay. We'll send you a repayment schedule showing how much you need to repay each month.

You can find out more about repaying your loans at www.studentloanrepayment.co.uk

How much will I repay toward my Postgraduate Master's Loan?

The amount you repay each month will depend on your income, not how much you borrowed. You'll repay 6% of your income over the repayment threshold.

So, if you're paid monthly and earn £2,500 a month before tax you'll repay 6% of the difference between what you earn and the monthly threshold (currently £1,750).

$$£2,500 - £1,750 = £750$$

$$6\% \text{ of } £750 = £45$$

So your Postgraduate Master's Loan repayment would be £45 in that month.

Your monthly income

— £2,500
— £1,750
(repayment threshold)

£750

You repay

6%

£45 a month

This table shows how much you'll repay towards your Postgraduate Master's Loan depending on your income:

Income each year (before tax)	Monthly salary	Monthly repayment
£21,000	£1,750	£0
£22,000	£1,833	£4
£23,500	£1,958	£12
£25,000	£2,083	£19
£27,000	£2,250	£30
£30,000	£2,500	£45

A repayment will be taken if you don't earn £21,000 in a year but exceed the monthly or weekly threshold at any time, for example, if you work overtime or get a bonus.

You can make a voluntary repayment towards your Postgraduate Master's Loan at any time.

If you leave your course early and are overpaid, you'll need to repay this amount as soon as possible. This means you might not be earning above the repayment threshold. For more information download our 'Taking a break from your studies or withdrawing from your course' main guide.

What about interest?

Interest is charged on your Postgraduate Master's Loan from the day we make the first payment to you until your loan is repaid in full or cancelled.

Interest will be charged at the Retail Price Index (RPI) plus 3%.

When is a Postgraduate Master's Loan cancelled?

Any Postgraduate Master's Loan balance remaining 30 years after you enter repayment will be cancelled.

What if I already have a student loan?

If you've already had any other loans from Student Loans Company and your income is over the threshold, you'll repay these at the same time as your Postgraduate Master's Loan.

How much you'll repay towards the student loans you already have for your undergraduate course will depend on when you studied.

If you started your undergraduate course on or after 1 September 2012 (Plan 2)

You'll repay 9% of your income over £25,000 towards the student loans you borrowed for your undergraduate course and 6% of your income over £21,000 towards your Postgraduate Master's Loan.

Income each year (before tax)	Monthly salary	Undergraduate loan repayment	Postgraduate Master's Loan repayment
£21,000	£1,750	£0	£0
£22,000	£1,833	£0	£4
£23,500	£1,958	£0	£12
£25,000	£2,083	£0	£19
£27,000	£2,250	£15	£30
£30,000	£2,500	£37	£45

If you started your undergraduate course between 1 September 1998 and 1 September 2012 (Plan 1)

You'll repay 9% of your income over £18,330 towards the student loan you borrowed for your undergraduate course and 6% of your income over £21,000 towards your Postgraduate Master's Loan.

Income each year (before tax)	Monthly salary	Undergraduate loan repayment	Postgraduate Master's Loan repayment
£18,330	£1,527	£0	£0
£21,000	£1,750	£20	£0
£22,000	£1,833	£27	£4
£25,000	£2,083	£50	£19
£27,000	£2,250	£65	£30
£30,000	£2,500	£87	£45

If you started your course before 1 September 1998

You'll continue to repay or defer these loans and you'll repay 6% of your income over £21,000 towards your Postgraduate Master's Loan. You can't defer your Postgraduate Master's Loan. Your repayments will stop automatically if your income is below the threshold.
